

Michaud Will Stage Three-Ball Tournament to Aid Match With Brocktonites

JOE MICHAUD FIRST TO FOLLOW SUGGESTION OF TIMES TO BOOST FUND

Proprietor of Diamond Alleys Will Stage Three-Ball Tournament Next Wednesday, the Proceeds of Which Will Help to Swell Amount for Brockton-Washington Series.

By KIRK C. MILLER.

Joe Michaud, proprietor and manager of the Diamond bowling alleys in G street, is the first to fall in line with the suggestion made in Thursday's Times, which advocated a novel manner to raise funds to promote the local end of the Washington-Brockton duckpin series, the details for which are now under course of completion. Michaud has announced a three-ball tournament which will be rolled over alleys Nos. 3 and 4 at his institution next Wednesday, beginning at 7 p. m. and continuing until midnight.

"The Times' proposal that every bowling alley in Washington stage a three-ball tournament in which three duckpin balls are rolled at a frame of tenpins, should meet with the approbation of every proprietor in the city," said Michaud, when he called The Times on the phone to announce his intention. He continued:

DONATES TWO ALLEYS FOR TOURNAMENT.

"I shall have alleys Nos. 3 and 4 sandpapered to the precise finish of those over which the Washington rollers are to compete in Brockton, and my tournament shall be a Brockton-boosting proposition throughout. Washington has no unrivaled alleys, and it is over such a course that our boys will compete while in New England, and during the three-ball tournament which I shall present next Wednesday, the local pin splitters shall have an opportunity to experience the conditions under which the Brockton end of the series is to be staged.

"Harry Armiger, who is known to probably every bowler in Washington, is to be in charge of this tournament, which I shall promote. Between the hours of 7 and 12 o'clock on next Wednesday he will have complete charge of the alleys I have indicated, and the bowlers of Washington, I hope, will report to him in full force to patronize the very worthy cause which the event represents.

"I have ordered six 44-inch duckpin balls from the Brunswick-Balke Colender Company, that size being the variety used in Brockton, and they will be at the disposal of those who wish to roll under the exact circumstances that will prevail when the Capital rollers toe the foul line in the Massachusetts town one week from Saturday.

"Indeed, every member of the All-star team will have the opportunity of their lives to prepare for the biggest event in which they have ever participated, in sponsoring the event which I have decided to promote after reading the suggestion in The Times. True, they will be rolling at tenpins, but the control of the ball over a sandpapered alley is a thing they are unused to, and the practice will prove a world of benefit to them when they get to Brockton."

"Michaud is probably the best known bowler of Washington's colony of pinners, and his offer to promote the Brockton-Washington series as above described is sure to attract a throng of rollers to his place on Wednesday evening. Michaud is a member of the All-star team, which has been named to represent Washington in this important subject, which will consist of ten games, five to be rolled here and five in Brockton.

He has shown no interest in the coming event since the controversy between this city and Brockton was first started, and his offer to aid in collecting the funds to send a team to Massachusetts is quite in keeping with his attitude toward the game during his lengthy connection in this city.

This three-ball event is familiar to most every bowler in the city, the competition consisting in merely rolling three duckpin balls over a frame of tenpins. To those who have never attempted this novel pastime, the difficulty in spilling the entire box of pins is hardly known, until given a trial. Strikes and spars do not count, it therefore being impossible to score the pin total of more than 30, and indeed this number is seldom scored by any but the most expert. The Times' original suggestion as printed in Thursday's issue advocated that every manager of alley stage a three-ball tournament by offering prizes of $5, $1, $2 and $1, and charging an entrance fee of 25 cents.

Two sets featured the rolling in the Southwestern League, the Southlands taking all three from the Lincolns and the Parker-Bridget bowlers pocking a pair when they took on the Atlantics.

The result was entirely unexpected by the followers of activities down at Manager Murphy's alleys, as the Atlantics are the leading quint, while the P-B team is trailing along in last place. In that match, Down's set of 36 and game of 12 were the high while in the Southland-Lincoln battle J. and P. Riston featured with set of 31 and game of 12.

Columbians succeeded in walk away with the opener when it went up against the Aradians. The latter team, however, won the last two by healthy

HINES HAS HIGHEST INDIVIDUAL AVERAGE

Feelys Lead All Teams in Arguers' Duckpin League For First Quarter.

With one-quarter of the schedule in the Arguers' Duckpin League completed, the race in that organization begins to take some tangible form. The Feelys seem to have the inside track with their record of seven victories and two defeats, while Hines follows closely with five wins and four losses.

Hines is shown to have the best individual average, his mark of 109.3 being the only one which scores into three figures. Williams and Burdett have averages of 91 and 91.5 respectively.

For the first time since the league inaugurated its career, the complete individual and team averages have been compiled by Secretary Charles G. Williams. The entire figures are given below:

French Girl of Twenty Knocks Out Her Opponent

PARIS, March 6.—Mlle. Carpentier, twenty, today defeated the female pugilist champion, following her knock-out of Mlle. Warner in the fourth round of a scheduled six-round bout. Chantilly, which was witnessed by 800 persons, Mlle. Carpentier forced the pace at the outset and won the first two rounds were slightly in her favor. Mlle. Carpentier opened up in the third and fourth rounds, however, and knocked out her opponent after raining a score of hard punches to the head.

Cross Real Winner.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Eight fans today pointed to aggressiveness and experience as the combination which enabled Leach Cross to outpoint Phil Blom, of Wilmington, in their ten-round mill before the Empire A. C. last night. Cross showed the effects of his latest swim New Year, as his delivery was wild and he was slow on his feet.

Rain Prevents Game.

TAMPA, Fla., March 6.—It poured yesterday and the Sox did not tackle the St. Louis Browns.

White Sox Lose.

OAKLAND, Cal., March 6.—The White Sox lost to the Oakland team today, 10 to 6. Cluck, of the Sox, made three errors.

WHO'S WHO ON ALLEYS

GLENN McCAMBRIDGE.

We've had our eyes on this youthful satellite of the local bowling constellation for many days, but his orbit has been so varied that it is with difficulty that we even now catch up with him. This is his first year out on the maplewood track, and it was necessary to give him a chance to show his class before we could place his rating on our past performance sheet. We now have to tell the public that young McCambridge is the best left-handed duckpin bowler in the Mt. Pleasant League. The fact that he is the only port-sider in that circuit does not enter into the equation—that title belongs to him and it is no one's business how he came by it.

Never has his right to that distinction been shaken or even approached except on one occasion when W. P. Hildebrand made application to become a member of the "Crab" league. It is a notorious fact that "Hilde" can roll just as well with his left arm as with the right, and when he asked Joe Costinett for admittance to the Mt. Pleasant organization, McCambridge immediately became the busiest kind of a legislator against such action. Of course, "Mac" won in that argument the same as he does in everything he enters into. That is where he displayed true Illinois characteristics. He learned out in Bloomington to get everything he goes after and his early training has not been false to him.

Ray Collins Is After His Terms for 1915

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 6.—Ray Collins, big left hander of the Boston Red Sox, has been given his terms for this season, according to his own and Joe Costinett for admittance to the Mt. Pleasant organization, McCambridge immediately became the busiest kind of a legislator against such action. Of course, "Mac" won in that argument the same as he does in everything he enters into. That is where he displayed true Illinois characteristics. He learned out in Bloomington to get everything he goes after and his early training has not been false to him.

Soccer Football Used To Condition Phillies

WILMINGTON, N. C., March 6.—To relieve the monotony of cross-country running and with the idea of developing wind and reducing surplus flesh, Manager Dooin has decided to introduce soccer in the Phillies' camp. The weather today was cold and threatening.

Clifton Case, a pitcher from Trenton, N. J., and Bill Erwin, a Philadelphia catcher, are due to arrive today to help out the batteries.

Hans Wagner Signs.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 6.—Hans Wagner's 1914 contract today was put in the safe of President Barney Dreyfus. "Just thought I'd drop in and leave this," said the "Pate" captain with a smile, as he put the paper on the executive's desk. Hans also said "I'm a con" and "Good-by."

SETTLE EVERS CASE AT TODAY'S MEETING

Sweeney and Perdue Will Probably Remain With Braves, If Gaffney Wishes.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The National League directors will meet here today to straighten out any tangle that may have arisen out of the Evers case. It is a pretty well-settled fact that President Gaffney of Boston will not have to give up any players in the famous deal that landed Evers with his club. Sweeney and Perdue, whom he agreed to trade to Murphy for Evers, and who afterward were returned to him by the league, will remain on his roster if he wishes them. A money consideration of some sort may be ordered at the discretion of the board.

The passing of Charles Webb Murphy from baseball leaves a vacancy on this board which may be filled to-
